

THE RESIDENTIAL CONSTRUCTION SAFETY ASSOCIATION RCSA

Harold Carroll
Executive Director, OHS
NS Department of Labour and Advanced Education

Att. Harold Carroll;

April 19 / 18

This letter is to let you know how much we (RCSA) appreciate your participation over the past year in the development of this organization in your comments and suggestions as we moved forward. The discussions we had on how we are different from other safety organization that share in an employer, employee relationship was important for us to understand in the layout of our business plan on how we can move forward. The audience we are appealing to does not share in that specific relationship which has left our audience to seek out their knowledge on OHS to their own peril.

You were also very helpful by taking time to review the many drafts that were written in the process of the development of our first module, “The Relationship Between the Parties of the Internal Responsibility System”. We believe that this module is a good starting point for our audience to begin to learn the importance of the various roles they may decide to take on within their projects and the duties and responsibilities that attach themselves to these roles.

Unlike other safety providers there is no blue print we can follow because we are not duplicating what has already been done by them. It is important to us that you and your Department continue to work together to achieve the maximum effect through the delivery of OHS information and training as it is developed and made available to them.

Sincerely;
David Dahr
President & CEO
The Residential Construction Safety Association RCSA